White noise provides a constant soothing sound to promote relaxation prior to sleep. This allows the brain to calm down and drown out all exterior sounds and thoughts. Once asleep, white noise continues its magic on the brain by keeping random noises far away from the brain. This helps you to awaken fresh, rested and ready to start your day.

Excellent too for babies, day or night. Used in the baby's room, this allows you to be in the room without your baby hearing your steps, sounds or even whisper. Your baby gets the sleep he or she needs and you get your free time!
